

Round – On round 0 record what the game looked like when starting. Then record the data about the round after you have completed the challenge each round.

How many times I bid – This number is likely to be either 0 or 1 but may be larger depending on how your partners play.

Record your dice – Record the numbers you can see on your dice and put them in order from smallest to largest.

Total count of dice – Record how many dice all the players have together. This number will start higher, 15-25 but then it will be reduced each time you finish a round.

Final bid Count – This box will record the number of dice called before the challenge.

Final bid Value – This box will record the number on dice called before the challenge.

Did the challenge win – If the challenger won write Yes if the challenger lost then write No.

Percentage of total dice my population represents – This is a calculation. Each calculation will require Total count of dice divided by the number of dice you had in the record your dice section.
