

Pole Climb

DESCRIPTION

The Pole Climb test is available for the measurement of motor function and coordination in mice. Animals are placed on a vertical pole. The latency until the animal reaches the base of the platform is recorded. The Animal Phenotyping Core houses one of these units.

FEATURES & SPECIFICATIONS

All-threaded, plated metal rod allows animal to easily grip the apparatus

Foam pad at base of rod supports the animal

Apparatus dimensions

- 1.27 x 60 cm

PHOTOS

